Reports can be submitted by Gabriel employees, and external stakeholders.

How to submit a report to the Hotline

The whistle-blower Hotline is administered by the Danish law firm DLA-Piper, and all reports will initially be received by an entrusted specialist lawyer of DLA-Piper, who evaluates if such reports are within the scope of the whistleblowing scheme.

If you want to raise a concern through the whistle-blower Hotline please send an email to the following address:

Whistleblower.gabriel@dlapiper.com

Please be advised, that the process safeguards your anonymity on different levels, as you can either:

- write directly that you wish to be anonymous (DLA-Piper will then delete personally identifiable information before sending the report to the Compliance Function (currently consisting of the CEO and Legal Counsel of Gabriel)); or
- disclose your name and contact information to DLA-Piper only. This is always appreciated as it makes an investigation easier. (DLA-Piper will then delete personally identifiable information before sending the report to the Compliance Function); or

- chose not to be anonymous. Please note that the report will still be treated confidential, but there is a risk that you could be called in as a witness if the investigation results in litigation.

If the report involves executive management of Gabriel, the report will be forwarded to the chairman of the Board of Directors of Gabriel Holding A/S. In all other cases, the report will be forwarded to the Compliance Function.

If a report is within scope of the whistleblowing scheme, it will be investigated and dealt with according to the internal whistle-blower guidelines.

People who knowingly and in bad faith report another person are not protected by the whistleblowing scheme. Persons reporting in bad faith may be subject to civil, criminal, administrative and disciplinary sanctions including termination of employment.
